

Ericka Stokes, Navy Spouse
Outreach Coordinator – Jacksonville, FL area

“We all live with the objective of being happy; our lives are all different and yet the same.” Anne Frank

Ericka is married to Rodney M. Stokes. She and her husband, Rodney, recently relocated back to Jacksonville, Florida after being stationed overseas in Sasebo, Japan, Naples, Italy and Lisbon, Portugal. They were blessed to have a son and a daughter, A’Jani, 7 years old, and Nyssia, 5 years old, both born in Japan. She is also a step-mother to Rayshawn, 15 years old.

Ericka has several years of customer service, administrative, and Human Resources experience in a variety of industries. Most recently, she worked for the Navy Exchange, in their European and Tidewater District Offices in Human Resources. As part of their team, Ericka has embraced diversity in its broadest sense. She has learned to cope and adapt to different cultures, values, beliefs, and backgrounds. Prior to working with the Navy Exchange, Ericka worked at the Defense Commissary Agency, in Sasebo, Japan. As a Sales Store Clerk, she again faced another challenge in learning yet another culture.

Before beginning with MSCCN, Ericka volunteered at Oakleaf Village Elementary and also spent time working as a volunteer at Naples Elementary School through the American Red Cross, in Naples, Italy.

Ericka has a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration with a concentration in Computer Information Systems from Alabama State University. She is also pursuing other interests such as Human Resources Management and Medical Billing and Coding.
